DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 27-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim(s) 27-46 fail(s) to recite sufficient structural elements and interconnection of the elements to positively position and define: 1) how the plates are releasably securable to a foundation; 2) how the control panel is connectable to cause the industrial machine to perform an operation; 4) how the pneumatic controller is connectable to communicate with the machine so that an integral structure able to function as claimed is recited. It is suggested that language such as --releasably connected—would overcome the rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

Art Unit: 3637

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 45-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hardinge in view of Doyle. The patent to Hardinge teaches structure substantially as claimed including table, means for securing (at 6) including mounting plates, a plurality of legs, the only difference being that the legs are not telescopingly adjustable. However, the patent to Doyle teaches the use of providing telescopingly adjustable legs with control means to be old. It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to modify the structure of Hardinge to include vertically adjustable legs and control means, as taught by Doyle since such structures are conventional alternative support structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed. It is noted that the use of fasteners and structures on workstations is well known. To use such in the same well known intended purpose, such as those used in workmates would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art and a predictable outcome. The use of a control panel to be in electrical communication with structures is routinely used in industry in view of cpu structures that are readily available at programmed. The method would have been obvious in view of the structures as a structure is entitled to all of it's uses..

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 27-44 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 05/23/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
